It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband the small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

It combines the most valuable Flesh and Bone-forming substances, and differs essentially from other farinaceous foods, which being quite unable to afford proper nourishment to a growing infant, frequently lead to a ricketty and idiotic condition. Savory and Moore's preparation has also the advantage of being freed from the ground husk of the corn, which produces irritation of the bowels and intractable diarrhœa. No boiling or straining required.

MEDICINES THAT LENGTHEN LIFE. The average length of human life would be greatly extended if the present large use of Bristol's Sarsaparilla could be made universal in diseases arising from impure blood and scrofulous humors. Medicines that have the positive property of curing disease and the negative quality of being perfectly harmless, are rare. Bristol's Sarsaparilla is one of them. It would be almost impossible to produce a case of scrofula, or any other ulcerous or eruptive disorder, that could not be controlled by this allhealing vegetable alterative, and equally impossible to name an instance in which it has operated deleteriously on the feeblest of patients. c—388

DRAINAGE AND WATER-SUPPLY.

The Water-works committee, of which Don Vicente Casares is chairman, having been directed by Government to examine and report upon the Bateman project and the proposed city improvements in general, drew up last January a schedule of 14 queries, soliciting explanations on as many essential points from Mr. Alfred Moore [representative of Mr. Bateman], the Topographic Department and some eminent local engineers. The replies, as may be imagined, are voluminous and too tedious for any but scientific readers: we, therefore, condense the whole matter at issue in as intelligible a form as we can.

The questions turned on three special points:

1st. Would any risk arise to the city from Bateman's idea of turning the drainage into the River Plate?

2nd. Would the Edinburgh irrigation system be preferable, and if so how much land would be requisite?

3rd. Would it be better to take the water-supply from Olivos?

Mr. Alfred Moore's reply is dated February 10th. He says the Cloaca Maxima of Mr. Bateman would have its mouth 3 miles beyond the Boca, below the river-level even at low water. The drainage could be no injury to the city as the outpour would be only at high water, when the current would carry it down towards the sea, and although it is said that bottles which have been thrown into the river at Quilmes have been washed up to Palermo, there is a difference between the effect of wind on objects lying on the surface of the water and the effect of current below in carrying things downstream. Moreover, there would be a distance of 11 miles from the mouth of the Cloaca to the point abreast of Belgrano where Bateman proposes to take the water-supply, leaving no possible danger of contamination.

Mr. Moore is rather averse to the system of irrigation, as he doubts whether any agriculturists could be found to contract for taking the drainage matter and putting up the necessary costly machinery, engines, pumps &c.; besides, any neglect in this particular would be dangerous to public health, and in rainy seasons or when reaping the crops the lands could not receive the drainage, which would, therefore, have to be turned into the river, and thus the tunnel or Cloaca would always be requisite. In case of irrigation the area required for the system would be a thousand cuadras (4,000 acres) for a population of 200,000 souls. Bateman's project provides special drains for heavy rain-falls, to prevent inundations or the flooding of the ordinary conduits. As regards water supply he considers the present place (near the Gas-works) exposed to contamination from the city and shipping, and prefers to fix the 'take' from abreast of Belgrano, instead of going up higher towards the mouth of the Tigre, where the water is not so pure. The tunnel for conveying the water from the river up to the Steam-engines, will be of concrete or brick, 4 feet diameter, sufficient to allow 16 million gallons to be pumped up daily. Another tunnel or main-pipe of cast iron, 3 feet diameter, will extend from the Engine-house up to the basin or deposit, at the corner of Calles Rioja and San Juan, sufficient for 8 million gallons daily; another main-pipe of equal size can be laid down afterwards. The drains from the city, across the Riachuelo, to the mouth of the Cloaca on the river-side, will be 3½ or 4 feet diameter. Mr. Moore does not believe in Earth-closets or any other invention to replace the English system of water-closets, for use throughout the city.

The report of the Topographic Department dated Feb. 9th and signed by Messrs. Salas, Kuhr and Benoit, is entirely opposed to the Bateman scheme, as being a menace to the health of the city. No matter where the drainage be carried into the River Plate [at all near town] it is likely to contaminate the war for drinking, and no filtration or chemical process can render it afterwards wholesome. The irrigation system is everyway preferable, and would require about 600 cuadras. Punta de Olivos would be the best place from which to take the water-supply.

The reply of Mr. Louis A. Huergo is dated Feb. 13th and takes an ample view of the subject in all its bearings, besides a comparison of Mr. Bateman's assertions with the writer's experience. He says Bateman's project is inadmissible. In times of flood Mr. B. says it would be necessary to turn the drainage into the Riachuelo, but this would be a worse nuisance than the Saladeros. The drains, too, would be very costly; from the Mataderos to the mouth of the Cloaca at least £300,000 sterling. All the coast-line from Quilmes to Buenos Ayres would be uninhabitable from the filth washed ashore on the low lands and 'bañados'. On the other land the Croydon, or Edimburgh system, as now applied in the large towns of England, as well as Paris, Brussels and Milan, [and which Messrs. Hope and Napier now propose for London] is the most convenient, healthy and improved mode yet known: it would require about 450 cuadras for disinfecting the drainage of our city. As regards the water-supply Mr. Huergo is opposed to any change from the present place. Dr. Frankland's analysis of the samples showed it to be of "excellent quality" and superior to that taken from Olivos. Moreover, the change would cost £150,000, without giving any advantage whatever. The purity of the present water is shewn by the fact that the samples sent to Dr. Frankland were taken even when the Saladeros were working at Barracas. Meantime Mr. Huergo thinks the water should be taken further out, where the river is ten or twelve feet deep and at least a mile from shore, through a tunnel constructed for the purpose.

These are, in brief, the opinions for and against Mr. Bateman's plans, and we certainly enlist ourselves with the second. No fresh ground has been broken since Mr. Coghlan's elaborate report and projects of city improvements (published in our columns three years ago), which seem in all essential points to confirm the opinion of the Topographic Department and Mr. Huergo as above expressed. Mr. Coghlan held up the Croydon system as the best, shewed what a reduction in mortality followed in those towns where it was adopted, and suggested the valley of the Riachuelo, below the Convalecencia, as the most suitable place for the irrigation or disinfecting progress. The whole cost of the city improvements, drainage, sewage, water-supply, paving &c. was estimated by him at £970,000 sterling. His report was printed and then forgotten. Mr. Bateman afterwards came out on a similar mission, made a very scientific and detailed report of his view of the matter, and was handsomely paid for his services.

The Government and people of Buenos Ayres are under no obligation, expressed or implied, to accept any of the projects yet presented. One thing we do hope, that they will not accept Mr. Bateman's unless he modify it so as to admit the Croydon irrigation system. If, as Mr. Moore supposes, it will be difficult to find proprietors who will contract for the drainage and put up the costly machinery, it will suffice for the Municipality to purchase or expropriate the bañados below the Convalecencia, erect the machinery, and carry out all the works, as Mr. Coghlan, doubtless, will be able to shew.

THE "COOTER'S" MAILS.

The mails per cutter Guardia Nacional were delivered yesterday at 11.30 a.m. They bring dates from Montevideo six days old, possessing every feature save commercial or political interest. The Tribuna of Montevideo on last Sunday came out with a rather stiff article on the impending danger of the fever, blythely touching on the few least salient points of the epidemic, showing the imperious necessity of every family leaving the city, and at once. Although the mortality census gives fever deaths in March 16, and in the present month 18 to 20, whilst in March some 51 people died of small pox, yet, there was no hubbub made about it. Spite of the epidemic alarm the punctual destruction of the paper money goes on. On the 18th inst. there was an immense blaze at the Credit Office—into the fiery furnace were pitched the following sums—

From the above it will be seen what good faith the Credit Office keeps with the public—soon the paper money will be all burnt up.

The feasts began on Sunday and held till Tuesday night; the streets were magnificently decorated, flags of all nations were to be seen, and the illuminations made the city as bright as day. The cost of these feasts is not specified in the papers, but from the descriptions we read of them they must have cost a good round sum. The Board of Health has ordered again the city to be whitewashed from top to bottom, and the town is now like a quaker city, it is so spotlessly clean. The fortress of San Jose gave three grand salutes—1st at daybreak, 2nd at noon, and 3rd at sundown in honor of the peace; the artillery roar was so terrific that many assert the Custom-house shook.

Mrs. C. Navia died on the 19th; her death has spread a gloom in the best circles of Montevideo.

Don Pedro Berro, well known in commercial circles, nearly expired same night from an apoplectic attack. Not a Doctor in town could be got up at the hour. Mr. Berro, however, is gradually recovering. He was formerly a clerk in the house of Zumaran and Co.

In the Department of San Jose, at the estancia Cachones, three fellows rode up, made a fine troop of novillos, drove off, alleging superior orders, without even giving a receipt. The robbery was committed in broad daylight, and the Government is trying to catch the perpetrators.

The famous German tragedian Neuman Seebach is expected out soon to the Solis to give Schiller and Goethe representations. He will subsequently visit Buenos Ayres.

The Debates calls upon the Government to arm, in order to be prepared for the impending war in the Plate. The appeal, however, appears to find little echo, as the other papers take no part in the matter.

Small pox still continues its ravages in the camps; in almost every district the disease is prevalent, all of which might have been somewhat avoided by the Government compelling the people to vaccinate their children.

Madame Mollo still draws crowded houses. Last week Norma, Lucia, and Il Trovatore charmed the public; and notwithstanding the epidemic alarm, the opera is better attended than at present in Buenos Ayres.

A terrible accident occurred in Calle Reconquista the other day. A nurse, standing over an algibe, allowed the baby in her arms to fall in; she took such a fright that she ran off, and has not since been heard of.

The neighbors of the Cuartel Dragones have protested against the establishment of a new hospital thereabouts.

Sr. Fermepin, a well known shop keeper, lies at present dangerously ill at the Hotel Univers (yellow fever), Mr. Hamilton, an Englishman, died of the same disease on the 19th:

Major Siquiera from the camp reports the following position of the army:—Gen. Castro with his army is at Durazno and sick abed, and the army, it is said, is being devided up and marched into the different districts, there to be quartered at the Jefe's orders.

The Chambers have passed the law authorizing the two million loan. The money has been advanced and the business so far closed.

All the 'jefes' of 'partidos' at present in the city have been ordered off to their respective districts there to proceed to disarming the soldiers ordered to be disbanded.

Don Francisco Montes, a gentleman of great respectability and of advanced age, died on the 20th.

On Thursday a meeting of all the the Montevidean editors took place to arrange a programme under the present afflicting circumstances. The papers, strange to say, don't give the result, but all promised to help the Board of Health.

There is nothing further of note in the Montevidean mails. Peace seems at last to take root. A subscription for a Peace Statue finds favor, and money is freely given: Mr. Gomensoro is decidedly popular, and upon the whole we may congratulate the Banda Oriental on improved prospects.

ADVENTURES OF MR. LEMOS.

Since the days of Ali Baba and the 40 thieves there has been nothing like Santos Guayama, who seems to have a special hatred to Custom-house officials and is now roaming at large from San Juan to Mendoza, and along the Cordillera, with a band of 40 free-booters armed with 8-barrel rifles. A few days ago we published the wonderful escape of Mr. Bates, Intendente of Pozitos, who only escaped shooting by a timely ransom. Far more wonderful and romantic are the adventures of Mr. Cicero Lemos, customs-receiver at Uspallata, who tells his story in these words.

"On the night of April 9th, the Resguardo of Uspallata was crowded with travellers. Mr. Villanueva of the Transandine telegraph line, with his 3 assistants, and a gentleman named Valeriano Parody with his family had arrived, as well as two troops of mules, under the charge of arrieros'. About 10 p. m. I and my 4 assistants retired to sleep, there being about 30 men of us in the place, but in half an hour I was aroused by shouts and firing, while 8 men with lighted candles and rifles levelled entered the rancho. We had revolvers, but thought it better not to use them, and surrendered quietly, whereupon they began to thrash us with their flat swords until the leader came in and announced himself as Colonel Santos Guayama: he ordered us to be tied down and interrogated, but I gave a false name and denied that I was the customs-official, although my comrades said I was. He then called me a dishonest man, and threatened to shoot me and my men unless I paid up $3,000. We pulled out all our money; it was only $98, to which we added our silver spurs, but the brigand chief declared that we must pay $1,000 or be shot.

"At the same time he asked how many horses we had and sent to the 'potrero' to seize them. Don Pascual Suarez declared to him that we had not so much as $1,000, and induced him to come down to $500: then Mr. Villanueva lent me $150 to make up the sum and I paid the ransom. Guayama at once set us at liberty, shook hands with us, offered us his warmest friendship and made us promise to write to him. He told us to remember him kindly and to be convinced that the National Ministers at Buenos Ayres were a pack of scoundrels. He said he was going to Chile, but would speedily return to hoist the flag of Liberty.

"As he went away we felt like mariners cast ashore on a desert island. Our ponchos and spurs were gone: the courtyard was full of horses and gauchos, and as we prepared to beat a hasty retreat Guayama's second in command, an ill-looking ruffian, rode up with some more gauchos and charged my comrade Camilo with having stolen a 'tordillo' horse from him at the battle of Lagunas: he said "tie him down and finish him, my boys". We saw that this fellow was going to murder us all, and that the plank which had saved us from shipwreck was washed away.

"Don Pascual Suarez luckily told Guayama of the difficulty we were in and saved our lives. The brigands then proceeded to take whatever arms and jewellery the passengers had, but did them no injury and asked for no money. I then escaped with my comrades to a place of concealment.

"At 3 in the morning, there being no noise, I concluded the brigands had gone, and repaired to the rancho where I found Suarez and his peon, who told me Guayama was at the 'corral' picking out the best mules.

"Before I had time again to escape, two gauchos rode up and ordered me to follow them. Guayama asked my name, which I told him falsely as before; whereupon he ordered me to kneel down, and one of his followers standing by raised a rifle. At that awful moment I thought of my wife and six children, destined to die of hunger and want, as all the widows and orphans of custom-officers do in the pay of the National Government. A sudden impulse urged me forward, and when I was within ten paces of the brigand I heard two shots behind me, felt nothing, and rushed onwards as fast as possible, but not without twice falling before I had run a hundred yards. Two more shots grazed me, but on I ran, and I could hear a fusillade of rifles and revolvers in my rear.

"Then a horse's hoofs in the pursuit, and turning round I saw another bandit close upon me. Vaulting over a wall I fell into a ditch, just as a flash and the whirr of a bullet told me of fresh danger. I lost my breath, and 3 more shots followed, but none hit me. Running along the grass I stumbled and fell; a brigand thrust a revolver into my face, but I grappled with him for the weapon. Then he drew a dagger to give me the coup de grace, my eyes grew misty, I fell powerless, and begged him to take me before his leader. While he was taking me back another drunken gaucho rode up, sword in hand, and swore at my captor for not having killed me right off, raising his sword to do so. The vision of my wife and 6 children abandoned by the National Government again rose to my eyes, I took to my heels, and two more shots followed in my rear. I had run over a thousand yards and saw my pursuers on horseback trying to cut me off from the neighboring thicket, but I ran for my life 500 yards more, and escaped. It all seems to me now like a horrid dream, but I hope the National Government will do something for us.

SAN JUAN TO CHILE.

REPORT ON THE PASO DE LOS PATOS.

Rio de los Patos,
April 4th.

We have been now six weeks exploring in the depths of the Andes, and have experienced fine weather throughout, although the season is rather advanced. Nothing could be more successful than the results of the expedition; the new pass we have discovered south of Los Patos is 3,500 feet lower than the old one, and fully a thousand feet less elevation than the Planchon, which has always been reputed the lowest in the Cordillera. It offers every facility for a first-rate carriage road, and even a railway would not be difficult, but we have not now time or appliances to make surveys for the latter.

The new Pass opens up, also, splendid mineral resources, for we stumbled on one gold and two silver mines in the same day without looking for them. We found, moreover, about 500 fossils and 50 ammonites, although geologists have often said that the existence of such was impossible in Andine regions. In making a railway the only want would be timber for sleepers, but there is an abundance of marble, chalk, brushwood, pasture and good water, everywhere.

If the new Pass be opened for traffic it will enable the 'arrieros' to make quick and easy journeys: the only part at all exposed is a stretch of about 20 miles, and even here there is not much snow. We are very badly off for mules, and I have had to hire some at my own expense. Provisions also run short, owing to frequent accidents; in passing one precipice no fewer than six mules rolled over, with their baggage, into an abyss of 300 feet. The work is so dangerous that we have twenty hair-breadth escapes daily.

The scenery is most picturesque. The elevations we have to surmount are not extraordinary, but the placing of the theodolytes often embarasses us considerably. Before long, however, we shall have the satisfaction of publishing a new Map of the Andes, which will astonish the world and especially the people of San Juan that for 200 years have carried on traffic with Chile by a dangerous pass of 15,660 feet in height, when 4 leagues further South there exists a pass only 12,200 ft. high, of easy transit and comparatively safe from snow-storms almost all the year round.

Octavio Nicour
Chief of the San Juan expedition.

The works on the first tramway in Rosario will be commenced next month.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We have to apologise for an error in this column yesterday, which may have interfered with underwriters' digestion of their matutinal meal. We allude to our reference to the loss of the Bonita, in connection with the wreck of the Evora on Wednesday night. We need scarcely say we meant the ill-fated Borneo, wrecked on the 24th December, 1870, off the coast of Brazil. As an esteemed colleague lately remarked, mistakes will occur in the best-regulated families and printing offices. We cry 'peccavimus.'

The 'Cooter' managed by some miracle to fetch this port yesterday morning, and we give extracts from her mails in another column. The poor 'Cooter' does her best, which is more than can be said for our copper-fastened administration when the public mail service is to be consulted. If the effort now being promoted by the merchants to establish a steam service twice a week between this port and Montevideo, while the yellow fever lasts there, be not aided to the utmost by the Post-office Department, the Postmaster-General runs imminent risk of descending to an admiring posterity as the famous Don 'Cootar' Posadas. We who know that Mr. Posadas is no way to blame, and that the Government has always dealt with his Department in a short-sighted and niggardly manner, will regret that it should be so; but he belongs to the ship of state, and must take the consequences. By the way, the same ship of state so-called is evidently 'cooter'-built, 'cooter'-rigged, and only fit for 'cooter' service in too many things.

We understand that Mr. Christopherson, late Consul-General for Sweden in this country, has been entrusted by his Government with a highly important mission to our Australian colonies, where he is to initiate commercial and other relations on a large scale with his country. His labors will probably extend over a period of two years. The numerous friends of his brother, the Swedish Consul, will be glad to learn that this deservedly popular gentleman received from his Government by last mail his credentials as acting Consul-General in this Republic for the United Kingdom of Sweden and Norway.

The severity of the frost on Thursday night was such that the peck of potatoes we received in the morning, and which made us so 'kin' with the donor, was nearly destroyed, and the Standard chronometer went so much astray that we found ourselves dressed and on the mole head looking for the 'cooter,' exactly one hour and twenty-three minutes too soon. 'En passant' we saved a man from annihilation in that holey of holeys the 'Hole in the Mole' which, by the way, is more holey than ever; we also secured an appetite. Writing of appetites, has any white reader ever heard the following story? 'n' importe,' it will bear repetition:—"An Irishman one morning went out very early in search of some game on an estate where the game laws were strictly enforced. Turning a sharp corner, whom did he meet but the gentleman who owned the estate. Paddy seeing the game was up, coolly advanced toward the gentleman and said' 'The top of the morning to your honor! and what brought your honor out so early this morning?' The gentleman replied by saying, 'Indeed, Paddy, I just strolled out to see if I could find an appetite for my breakfast;' and then, eyeing Paddy rather suspiciously, said, 'And now, Paddy, what brought you out so early this morning?' Paddy replied, 'Indade, yer honor, I just strolled out to see if I could find a breakfast for my appetite.'"

Private letters from Entre Rios state that a numerous band of 'montoneros' has appeared near the forest of Montiel, and that the authorities have dispatched 600 men to look after them. There are uncomfortable suspicions gaining ground that the marauders in question are affiliated members of the Jordan Shooting Club, and are looking for political game in the neighborhood.

The farce called 'Disinfecting the mails,' now having a run at the Post-office, is very inconvenient to the editorial public, condemned to receive, read, digest, and extract from piles of printed 'esparto.' The Guardia Nacional's mails, delivered yesterday, appear to have been disinfected with a compound of Cork snuff and rhubarb powder (the latter deservedly abhorred by children). We passed the day at No. 118 in a triangular exchange of 'saluds,' and would feel obliged by the Post-office looking out for another disinfectant.

The Viale Monument Committee met on Thursday to examine the models presented for the statue which is to be raised by the public of Buenos Ayres in memory of the heroic deed of the 24th December last. The Committee unanimously decided on a simple but elegant model, which represents Sr. Viale standing on a rock. It was also decided to ask permission from the Municipality to erect the statue in the Paseo Julio, opposite the mole. The spot chosen is the most fitted for the purpose that could be found, and we rejoice that the noble idea of the promoters of the monument may now be considered as successfully carried out.

The yellow fever in Montevideo made a 'rush' to the front on Thursday—19 new cases and 5 deaths; but the accounts yesterday were not so bad. It is hoped that, although the sudden fall in the temperature may have killed off those who were ill, and protracted those with the germs of the disease in their system, it will also act as a powerful preventive to a further spread of the contagion. Meanwhile the 'stampede' to the camp is greater every day, and all the estancias at all near the city are filled to overflowing with terrified fugitives. No decisive step appears to have been taken by the authorities as yet.

We have to congratulate warmly Sr. Cantilo, junior, on the brilliant examination he lately passed in obtaining his degree as Doctor of Law. This young lawyer comes of a good and clever stock, and we have no doubt his future career will fully bear out the exceptional promise he has already displayed.

Our colleague La Capital "goes in" for a bit of sensational news anent the island of Cerrito, fortifications, iron-clads, Armstrong guns, and 'villainous saltpetre,' etc. All our Argentine colleagues re-produce it, but it is believed to be exaggerated. Johnny Duffy is now, unfortunately, ex-Governor of the Villa Occidental, but who's afraid? Duffield is his fourth cousin five times removed, and being a North American knows how to fight.

An awful double murder is announced from Gualeguay. The victims are two respectable young men, named Hermoso, brothers, the assassins two 'compadres' of the most indifferent character, known as 'Negro de la Virgen' and 'Vaina Morada.' A miserable row in a café led to the catastrophe, one of the unfortunate brothers selling his life hard, and mortally wounding one of the assassins.

The whole military power of the province of San Juan appears to be turning out against Guayama, but the Provincial Dick Turpin (Dick's 'shade' must excuse the parallel) only laughs at them. Four of his band lately entered the house of Sr. Quiroga at Las Chumbas, tied Monsieur, Madame, and the 'olive branches' to their respective bed-posts, sacked the house, and returned safely to their mates and 'young barbarians.'

We understand that the American church now building in Calle Corrientes cannot be ready for the due performance of divine service for a couple of months. The cause of this delay is the intricate labor required on the roof, which the workmen consider so dangerous, owing to the dizzy height, that the foreman carpenter can only get one man to assist him at it.

A funeral service for the late Colonel Martinez was performed yesterday. Many officers of the staff assisted, and the Provincial Guard paid the usual military honors.

Tramways continue to spring up in the city with such 'asombroso' rapidity that we cannot 'keep the count' on the hairs of our head, much less our fingers, 'doigts de pied' included. The very latest lines are: one from the Riachuelo, through Calle Sola, to the Mercado Constitucion; and another (Mr. Billingharst) from the Recoleta, through Calle Charcas, to Calle Santa Fe. We defy even Bristol's Sarsaparilla to cure the 'tramway on the brain' now raging in this city.

Literary men will read the following with interest:—

"We understand that a collection of hitherto unpublished letters of Lord Byron, edited, with a preface, by Mr. Henry Schultes Young, of Oxford University, will be issued shortly by Messrs. Bently & Son. The same publishers also promise the Life and Letters of Captain Marryatt, R. N., the author of 'Peter Simple,' etc., by his daughter, Florence Marryatt [Mrs. Ross Church]. This book will contain Marryatt's sea-songs, which have never before been given to the world."

The recent storm did considerable damage in that charming neighbourhood, Lomas de Zamora, which "Britannia mettle" and capital are driving so rapidly ahead. Boreas took the roof off one alto house, gave a terrific shake to the foundations of sundry "bajos," played other pranks, and when leaving took with him for eight or ten squares a nice little four-oared boat which a Teutonic friend lately imported from England with the view of making himself a muscular Christian. The boat was recovered somewhat injured by its aerial voyage.

A heavy door in course of erection at the Bataclan Theatre fell on a man yesterday and slightly grazed one of his shoulders. But for the smartest young man in Standard Court who was passing at the moment and shouted to the workman to "stand from under" we should now be recording a case of complete pulverization.

The Trinculo left yesterday for Ensenada to load mules for the Cape of Good Hope. Next week a German barque will take a hundred more from Colonia, and the British barque Actaia, posted for 10th prox., is to load nearly double the number for same destination. By last accounts from the diamond fields the want of good hardy beasts of burden was much felt, and we look for the best results from Messrs. Moller.s new enterprise. The Diamond fever, which a few months ago was at its height, seems to have cooled down somewhat. Only six youths were found willing yesterday to court the smiles of the fickle dame. We wish them success.

We regret to learn from the columns of a colleague that every man in town is complaining of 'a pain in his stomach,' and general biliousness. This is an unfortunate state of things which we deeply deplore, the more so that, personally, we have as yet been spared. The general impression of the Faculty is that the inconvenient complaints said to be so prevalent have been induced mainly by an over reading of the native papers on the Brazilian and other indigestible questions Total abstinence, and a close study of French, German, and English, so that the foreign papers may be read, are recommended as the best system of cure.

The General Provincial Assembly met on Thursday, and approved of the election of the following gentlemen as National Deputies:—D. Huergo, J. M. Cantilo, J. M. Moreno, M. Acosta, J.A. Gelly y Obes, and F. Elizalde. In case Dn. Mariano Acosta be elected Governor, Dr. de Valle, the next on the list, will probably replace him.

The morning papers mention a horrible attempt at poisoning made by a peon who had been dismissed by his master. The ruffian opened a barrel containing poison for hides, and threw a quantity of the stuff into the algibe before leaving the house. On Thursday morning the horses were watered from the well, but all of them died in 10 minutes in horrible convulsions; the groom also was taken ill, having partaken of the water. The family had a narrow escape, as the breakfast, most of it cooked in the poisoned water, was being laid on the table when the frightful discovery was made. The police are on the track of the criminal.

The Municipality are thinking of building a Lazzaretto; at present they have only reached the "thinking stage," and many members think there is no occasion for thinking any more on the subject. If the weather continues fine, they won't mind it till after the next epidemic.

This paragraph is for Professor Gould, but the public may read it and pass it on to Cordoba:—

"Mr. T. Backhouse, of Sunderland, writes to us that T. Coronæ Borealis, the star which in 1866 so suddenly burst forth and waned again to telescopic size, and which for two years has not varied perceptibly in brightness, is now fading still further."

This one is for the ladies, and we make them a present of it:—

"A Mourning Toilet—The Cologne Gazette's Paris correspondent writes:—Many ladies of the great world wear now at the balls a mourning toilet, composed of a black silk dress, ornamented with white lace and red roses, and diamond tears in the hair. Such an expression of grief costs only 14,000 francs."

We regret to learn that the Minister of the Interior is so unwell that he has been unable to attend at the Government House for several days past.

The 'Banco Hipotecario' has petitioned Government for the privilege of 'franking' its letters to its country agents. Sir Rowland Hill would faint at such an idea.

It is said that Dr. Avellaneda intends to visit all the upper provinces with the intention of inspecting all the National Colleges.

The Flores Club will give its last 'tertulia' for the season to-morrow night.

The twenty-seventh annual report of the English Inclosure Commission estimates the 'common' and 'commonable' land at 8,000,000 acres, or more than one-fifth of the entire acreage of England and Wales.

Governor Go-and-Come is now in Santa Fe, 'Micawberizing.' He feels intimately persuaded that he will hear of something to his advantage from Corrientes ere long.

Mr. J.B. Bargas is thinking of colonizing the island of Espinillo Patagonia, and has asked the Government to cede the place to him. Everything required to commence operations at once is in readiness—except the colonists—but that's nothing.

We remind the public that Rigoletto is announced for this evening at the Colon Theatre, Madame Calisto Piccioli making her 'debut' as Gilda. As the empresa has not issued bills, we are unable to give the names of those taking the other roles.

The engineers now surveying the Cordillera, to find, if they can, a better pass over the Andes than the Planchon cry "Eureka" in their reports of the El Dorado they are exploring. They appear, so glowing is their account, to be stumbling over blocks of gold and silver, and their average rate for discovering new mines (without looking for them) is two of silver and one of gold every morning before breakfast. They also report the existence of such paltry necessaries as wood, water and pasturage. They would like to catch that scientific salmon Professor Agazzis, and throw out 550 sprats to land him—500 fossils and 50 ammonites. Smart fellows those engineers! We wonder what country or countries they hail from.

A TICHBORNE CASE IN TURKEY.

There is in London a young Turk about twenty-five years of age. He calls himself Mustapha Djehad Bey, and he claims to be the son of his Highness the late Kibrisli Mehemet Pasha, ex-Grand Vizier, and formerly the Sultan's Envoy at the Court of St. James. The claimant has entrusted his case to a firm of English solicitors, and it will be prosecuted by English counsel at Constantinople. His claim to the property of Kibrisli Mehemet Pasha is based on the following statement—for which, of course, we do not vouch in any particular:—

In 1840 Kibrisli Pasha married the widow of a European physician of Constantinople, and had by her a daughter and a son. The son was born in 1847, at the time that his Highness was Governor of Belgrade, in Servia. The birth of the heir was celebrated with a considerable display of rejoicing. In the year 1848 the Pasha was sent to the British Court as the Sultan's representative. During his absence the child Djehad became seriously ill, and his mother, Melek Khanum, suffered much anxiety on his account. The loss of her only boy would have been for her a very serious matter, since the Pasha might be induced to marry again. Accordingly Melek Khanum had a consultation with a woman of the name of Fatmah—described as the lady steward of her harem—and decided on averting the dreaded evil by feigning that she was about to give birth to another child; and to carry out this deceit a child was to be bought or borrowed. This was done; and the Pasha (who was then in London) in due time received the news that Heaven had blessed him with another boy. But things did not turn out altogether according to expectation. The firstborn recovered from his illness The woman Fatmah and one of the eunuchs, named Beshir, made use of the secret of the borrowed child, and dictated to their mistress and the whole household. But when they had achieved this, they began to contend between themselves for absolute supremacy; the Pasha's wife (it is said) all this while playing a very humble part—the part of one who had put herself entirely at the mercy of others. In vain Melek Khanum tried to appease the contending parties, and restore order to the house. Failing altogether in this, she asked the intervention of the Pasha's man of business, Reshid Effendi, who, however, took it all very lightly, as a woman's quarrel. Thereupon Mdme. Kibrisli resolved to dismiss Fatmah, at the same time quieting the eunuch by gifts of money. A little while afterwards, during a reception given at Mdme. Kibrisli's residence, he was smothered in his bath. Mdme. Kibrisli was charged with implication in the murder, but the accusation was not substantiated. While the trial was going on the Pasha was summoned from London, and hastened to Constantinople. On his arrival there he found affairs in a hopeless state of imbroglio, and he divorced his wife. This done, the question of legitimacy of his children arose, there being a natural suspicion that if one child had been borrowed the origin of the others might be doubtful. The question being put to the wife, she declared that the child Djehad had been borrowed also. But she now maintains that she was actuated in doing so by a feeling of revenge, awakened by her divorce and the Pasha's second marriage, which soon followed. From that time the boy Djehad has been a wanderer over the earth. He spent some years in Egypt as a domestic servant; he joined the Papal Zouaves; he has been a lay inmate at the convent of St. Lazare, in Venice; and, at his reputed father's death, which occurred in September last, he repaired to England, the land of portentous lawsuits, there to prepare his claims to Kibrisli Pasha's property.—Pall Mall Gazette.

EX-GOVERNOR DUFFY.

B. Ayres, April 26, 1872.

To the Editors of the STANDARD:

Gentlemen,

Having noticed in your issue of today the error you have been led into, and consequently misinforming your readers as to direct line of descent of your famous Duffy (as you choose to call him) the President of the Municipality of the Gran Chaco.

My own personal acquaintance of the aforesaid gentleman, gives me amale means of proving his being an American.

Enclosed I forward his card as guarantee of the few remarks in this note from,

Yours truly,
A friend of John A. Duffield.

AGRICULTURAL RETURNS OF SCOTLAND.

The agricultural returns of Great Britain for the year 1871 were issued by the Board of Trade on Monday night. The total acreage returned for holdings under 20 acres was 1,897,981 acres for Great Britain, or 6 per cent. of the acreage returned for holdings of all sizes. Of these, 1,897,984 acres, 80,223, or 51 per cent., were under tillage, and 1,067,761, or 56 per cent., under permanent pasture. The live stock returned as belonging to occupiers of less than 20 acres consisted of 109,029 horses out of a total of 1,254,450, of 582,555 cows and cattle out of a total of 5,337,759, of 1,414,041 sheep and lambs out of a total of 27,119,569, and of 502,789 pigs out of a total of 2,499,602. The total acrage returned as under all kinds of crops, bare fallow, and grass in the United Kingdom in 1871, was 46,667,178 acres, against 46,177,370 in 1870. Taking the population as ascertained by the last census, and the total acreage returned as under crops, bare fallow, and grass, it appears that the quantity of land under cultivation per head of the population was about 1·2 acres in Great Britain, and 2·9 acres in Ireland. It is probable, however, that a larger proportion of poor herbage is included under the heading of "Permanent Pasture" in Ireland than in Great Britain. Of the Scotch counties, Aberdeen has the largest total of acreage under all kinds of crops, bare fallow, and grass—the quantity being 579,578. Perth comes next, with 330,980; then Ayr, with 303,321; Lanark, 243,446; Forfar, 240,315; Fife, 239,495; Dumfries, 213,882; Roxburgh, 174,490; Kirkcudbright, 170,815. Clackmannan is lowest on the list, with 15,221. Haddington shows the largest average extent of land returned by each occupier—viz., 182 acres. Aberdeen stands at 50, Ayr at 87, Edinburgh at 117, Fife at 105, Berwick at 168, Inverness at 19, Dumbarton at 61, Lanark at 77, Linlithgow at 107, Perth at 60, Argyll at 32, Renfrew at 69, and Wigtown at 105. The largest acreage under corn crops was in Aberdeen, viz., 212,405. Argyll had 23,964, Ayr 60,504, Bute 5,674, Dumbarton 11,033, Dumfries 53,608, Edinburgh 41,661, Lanark 56,117, Perth 109,555, Renfrew 18,376, and Stirling 104,943. Aberdeen grew 1152 acres of wheat, 18,891 of barley or bere, and 190,821 of oats. Argyll, 82 wheat, 2,643 barley, and 20,183 oats. Ayr, 6,964 wheat, 1,448 barley, and 49,947 oats. Bute, 305 wheat, 337 barley, and 4785 oats. Dumbarton, 1,789 wheat, 417 barley, and 8,438 oats. Edinburgh, 6,582 wheat, 12,483 barley, and 22,013 oats. Lanark, 5,972 wheat, 983 barley, and 46,081 oats. Renfrew, 3,693 wheat, 237 barley, and 13,653 oats. Orkney and Shetland grew no wheat. Fife and Perth had the largest acreage of potatoes—19,807 and 18,891 respectively. Aberdeen stood highest with turnips—94,611; and Stirling with flax—396. As regards horses returned by occupiers of land, Aberdeen heads the list with 22,719. The great Northern country is also first with cattle—152,047; but Argyll has had most sheep—1,022,858; and Dumfries most pigs—19,734.

TEATRO RECREO.

While "Rambling through the Town" the other evening, by chance I came across a solitary lamp with the above letters painted upon it. Gazing on the outside of the building, it was impossible to construe it into a theatre, but seeing on a large bill that the great drama of "El Angel de la Muerte" would be presented, I at once made up my mind I would see it with all its starting effects.

On walking up the passage I at once perceived the usual hole in the wall with its solitary occupant ready to take the money from the admirers of the drama, and on asking the price was most politely informed that the general price was 10 m/c., but that boxes could be had for 12 m/c. The latter I took, and found it included entrance and admission, and even at that early hour, 7.45, the house was crowded.

The theatre is very small and only contains pit and boxes up stairs half way round the building. It is well lighted with gas, contains the usual footlights, dropscene, &c.

After the band had played the overture the curtain was raised, when to my amazement I found the actors and actresses were 'models,' on the principle of our Punch and Judy at home. My first impression was to retire, but the dialogue being well spoken, and the gesticulation of the models perfect, I was induced to stay nearly the whole of the performance. On the whole I could see nothing the models could not do: there was the usual comic actor—duels, embracing, fainting, &c., and last, not least, a fair stand up fight which seemed wonderfully to amuse the younger portion of the audience.

The theatre is situated in Calle Libertad between Cangallo and Cuyo, and open generally, I believe, on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

On retiring I told the proprietor he had given me an evening's amusement at a small cost, and I wished to know if the business answered as a speculation. He replied he had no cause to complain, things in general were pretty good in Buenos Ayres and he was doing a good business—and so was satisfied. I confirmed what he said, and added other congratulations, for—

Bu'rich was still the great auctioneer, and
The STANDARD still retained its great eminence.

With this the old man laughed heartily, and we then separated to meet once more, I hope, at no distant period.

THE RAMBLER.

THE QUILMES INAUGURATION.

To the Editors of the STANDARD.

Gentlemen,

In noticing the splendid success of this trip, which took place on the 18th, I was struck with surprise at the commencement of H.E. Governor Castro's speech. He said—"Gentlemen, the present is indeed a happy occasion fraught with signal benefit to this part of the province, but doubly important to my mode of viewing it: for this is the first railway that has been made in the country without either guarantee or land grant."

As I was not present, I cannot say how this part of the speech was received: at any rate, it was not 'cheered'—it had the sound of a grudge at one of the best of lines that is trying (under difficulties) to open out the unexplored regions of the South. However, it was pleasing to note that it was not taken up by any of the other gentlemen present.

I remain yours,
A Reader of the STANDARD.

NOTE OF ED.—We think the above remarks entirely out of place.

ON 'CHANGE.

April 26th, 1872.

Ounces	400
Soys	122½
Pats	25
National Bonds	72¾

The Bond market fell off to-day, and prices on time and for cash gave way, the fall was generally attributed to the news from up the rivers, which nearly all the papers published to-day. There were some however who think that the present weakness in the stock is more on account of the fears of an emission of new bonds by the next congress to fund the floating debt, than anything else, however this may be bonds tremble, and the bulls will be put to their utmost to sustain the market. During business hours there was very little done: 2600 at 73 cash, but at afterhours there were sellers for cash at 72½. For the end of May 73¾ sellers. For the end of June 73½, 20,000 sold, and more sellers at same rate. The market closed flat.

The non arrival of the French packet has caused a pause in the exchange market. Very little done to-day; the rates are 49¼, 49½ on London; 5.21, 5-25 on Antwerp.

The business of the day is in cedulas; this security sells better than funds, and looks rising. Sold to-day 5,000 series A 93. Mr. Raymond sold at after hours 6,000 at 93, and series C 400, at 92½. Buyers of series A., at 93½. It appears that the total emission of cedulas to the present, or say to the end of April is 1½ million pats. The bank is now doing a large business, and has returned the 10,000 pats. advanced to it by the Provincial Bank. We can now judge of the business of this bank; it is necessary for the bank to issue four millions cedulas to cover the annual expenses, and it is calculated that at the end of this year there will be 25 millions issued This shows the very splendid business opening to the bank.

The profits of the Provincial Bank for the first quarter of the present year amount to half a million patacones. This gives the gains of the bank for the year at fifty millions currency, perhaps the largest ever earned by this excellently-managed bank, for these gains spring from a difference of only 2 per cent: taking at 5 and lending at 7. Not in Europe is there a better managed or more useful bank than the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres.

Mr. George W. Drabble, President of the London and River Plate Bank, and formerly one of the first merchants of the River Plate, was welcomed on 'Change to-day by his numerous friends on his return to this country after an absence of four years. Mr. Drabble looks younger than the day he left for Europe in 1868, and speaks favorably of his impressions of Buenos Ayres after such a lengthened absence.

It was rumoured to-day that the Antwerp and River Plate Bank, which we announced some months ago, will be amalgamated with the new German Bank.

The new Italian Bank has taken the ancient premises of the River Plate Bank in Calle Piedad, where the bank will soon open, Mr. Apollini manager.

The erroneous telegram to the Nacional posted in the Bolsa announcing the arrival of the French packet caused confusion. It appears that the correspondent of that paper mistook the John Elder for the Amazon. The fine on the French mail dates from yesterday; she is supposed to have broken down and put into Bahia. The telegrams were as follows:—

To Nacional—
To-day till noon—6 cases, 6 deaths and many dying. French packet arrived.
To Bolsa and Club—
Paper 3¾. Extraordinary debt 55½.
Union Tramway 92.
Exchange sam's.
16 bales sheepskins at 12 to 13.
John Elder, from Valparaiso, sails to-morrow.
Seven new cases; six died.
Creole cargo coal, 13 pats.

Messrs. Silges & Ferrando, the well known saladeristas of Magdalena, may well feel proud of the following testimonial, which has come out by last mail—

"Messrs. Bracht & Co., of Antwerp, certify that the hides from Messrs. Silges & Ferrando's saladero, Magdalena, are the best that have entered that market this season from the Plate."

Barraqueros and others spoke much of a terrible attempt by a peon to poison Mr. C. Manzini, the well known Plaza Once barraquero. It appears that the peon, who cared the horses of the barraca, was discharged, and the villain threw a barrel of poison for curing hides into the algibo without being detected. Mr. Manzini's escape was miraculous, some coffee that remained over night he had heated before he left for the market. Mr. Manzini, being unwell, took no ton in the morning, the girl took milk, and when Manzini returned to breakfast he found 3 horses dying and the albanil carried to the Botica. Breakfast was waiting on the table all poisoned, but luckily the affair was descovered in time. Hanging is too good for the villain who committed this fiendish act, and such was the opinion of every one on 'Change who talked the matter over.

The earthworks of the Ensenada railway are going ahead, Mr. Simpson was on 'Change to-day and people interrogated him as to the works; it appears that the works are done for a league this side of Ensenada and about 4 leagues the other side of Quilmes, only about 2 1 agues remain to be finished: by the end of May, it is thought; the earthworks will be concluded this is work which even Dargan might boast of.

It was announced to-day that Congress will be opened on the 1st May.

Respecting the departure of Mr. Sarmiento for Europe we learn that H. E. denies the rumour and states that his physicians have merely prohibited his going out at night.

Respecting the Brazilian question everything is said, but nothing worth repeating.

M. Pequin, the eminent French merchant, has been appointed agent for the house of Schroeder and Schyler, the oldest in the wine-trade of Bordeaux, having been established in that city in the year 1739. A branch of the same house has its offices at Palmerston Buildings, 65 Fen-church St. London. The claret of this mark is well and favorably known in this city.

The president of the Banco Hipotecario has applied to the Postmaster-General for franking privileges on letters to the camp. We suppose it will be granted, although indeed the 1 per cent. paid by mortgagors ought to well cover all expenses. The estancieros are now turning their attention to the advantages which the bank offers: they can obtain half the value of their lands, and at 9 per cent. per annum. In fact, the Mortgage Bank will help more the estancieros than city householders, who could always raise something in the market on city property, but in the camp it was a very different business, and a mortgage on an estancia was always difficult. For the information of our country friends, we acquaint them with the fact that an English broker of high standing devotes much of his attention to this branch, and can be seen either at the Bolsa or at this office; his charge is most moderate—in fact, a mere trifle.

Mr. Hernet's move for a subscription steamer to the Mount is the topic of the day. Most persons connected with the trade subscribed liberally, and by an arrangement with the Port Captain here it might be so agreed that passengers for Buenos Ayres arriving from Valparaiso might be transhipped from the Chilian steamer in the Bay of Montevideo. This only seems fair, for passengers from the West Coast should of right undergo no quarantine, not going on shore at Montevideo.

Mr Crawford, of the Transandine Railway, and several of his assistants, Mr. Clark of Valparaiso, and many other parties are expected hourly in the Elder. Their friends here should telegraph to them not to go on shore at Montevideo, and possibly then they will be allowed to come up. The impression, is, however, general that the cold weather will put a stop to the fever, and this month both ports will be open and all quarantine abolished.

The arrival of General Rivas in town yesterday has led to the supposition that at last something is about to be done for the frontier. Gen. Rivas has interviewed the Minister of War, and peace with Calfucura is talked of.

A sale of Roads and Bridges stock is spoken of outside the Bolsa; the price is not given, but is said to be about 91½.

It seems now that there will be no French mail this month, for even if the Amazone does come in she will be hardly able to get off before the 4th or 5th of May. The probabilities are that the bills for the Amazon will go forward by the Flamsteed, which steamer takes the mails of the 9th.

The sales in the Public Land Office are now brisker than ever. This shows the excellence of Governor Castro's decree extending the time of purchase, and when the present period expires it is to be hoped that Governor Acosta will still further extend time, as by so doing he enables the right men to get the lands—the farmers. Had the period lapsed much of the land now passing into the hands of really deserving and industrious men, would be taken up by speculators. Governor Castro seems to have been well aware of this, and like an honest good man interposed his authority to benefit the working man and farmer.

The heirs of the late P. J. Anderson are called upon by the courts to present their claims.

Bullrich's auction sale yesterday of saddles, harness &c. was largely attended and the consignment sold at excellent prices.

The Captain of the German barque Gesino Broas publishes a notice that his cargo (600 tons) was discharged in the short space of seven days by the lighter-men, Guerrero & Co.

For the interest and amortization of the old Buenos Ayres Debt in London the National Government has not been obliged to take exchange in the market, having funds at his disposal in the hands of Murrieta, it has drawn for the amount; the bills go by the Flamsteed.

The Cutters mails were delivered early; there is nothing of any great importance, some of the papers betray great apprehension about an impending war in the Plate, and call upon the Government to arm in time; the peace loan for 2 millions was done by Messrs. Lamas and Mann, and on favorable terms. A large auction sale was held the other day at the Villa Roach: the Braz, brigantine Christina, wrecked, was sold off, besides an immense assorted cargo of flour, kerosene &c., all sold cheap. The Centaur from New York to Buenos Ayres, stops at Montevideo, and discharges there; Mr. Schartb and Messrs. Camino & Pino notify consigness to look after their goods. The mate and carpenter of the English ship Mariotta were drowned in the bay the other day, and corpses picked up next day by the ship's boats. Two Italian vessels, the Ricca Genova and Chicubrera have brought out 150 Italian emigrants. The Kate Sergeant so well known in the Plate is now plying between Colonia and the Mount. All the customs deposits are crowded from floor to roof with goods for Buenos Ayres that remain there until the port is opened.

Messrs. Iturraspe and Ortiz have applied to the Entre Riano Government to establish a fiscal bank in that province, and for that purpose offer to go to England to raise a new loan for five millions pats.

It was stated amongst the brokers to-day, that the Provincial Government has taken up eighty thousand pats at six per cent, the money being advanced by one of our private banks.

The resale of the splendid property known as the Hotel San Martin, corner of Cangallo and San Martin is spoken of, it is one of the finest properties in Buenos Ayres.

SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Calle Cangallo--103

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Maná & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wish can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Med. Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the Inventor of CHLORODYNE hat the story of the Defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne, that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—The Times, July 12, 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

REMEDIA, USES AND ACTION.

THIS INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while Medical men extol its virtues most extensively using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cough, Cramp, Hysteria, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay:—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after 18 month's severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports [Dec. 1865] that nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne was administered the patient recovered.

Extract from Medical Times, Jan. 12, 1866.—"Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongare we convinced of the immense value of his remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE, from which frequent fatal results have followed.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal Aug. 1, 1869, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.
